

MAKING HEALTHY EATING EASY!

WELCOME TO YOUR PERSONAL GUIDE FOR A HEALTHIER HAPPIER LIFE

To begin with, we just want to touch on some essential areas of your life that are key to health and happiness.

Health and happiness comes from a few small lifestyle choices that work together to form balance.

When you have balance in your life, your fitness, energy levels, weight, health, mood and overall quality of life will improve.

How do I achieve balance?

By making lifestyle choices that improve the following five fundamentals to a healthy life.

THE FIVE HEALTHY LIFE FUNDAMENTALS

These five fundamentals areas are the key to a healthy, happy and well balanced life. We have provided one small change in each area for you to start making now! If you try these small changes, you will achieve balance.

Healthy Eating

What you choose to eat affects your energy levels, your fitness performance and recovery, brain fog, mood, sleep quality as well as reduces your risk of developing some chronic diseases.

Your first change – increase your veggie intake by adding an extra cup of veggies to one of your meals each day.

Hydration

Staying hydrated with water reduces tiredness, fatigue, weakness and cravings. It improves overall energy levels, mood, brain fog and exercise performance and recovery.

Your first change – carry a water bottle with you everywhere you go and sip regularly.

Fitness

Regular exercise will improve your energy, mood, stress levels, sleep, disease risk and along with the right nutrition, improve your weight and muscle mass.

Your first change – go for a half hour walk on days you aren't attending LLGA classes. Walking is a low impact exercise that will get the body moving and clear the mind.

Mindfulness & Mental Wellbeing

Taking time to be mindful and breathe will help to improve your stress levels, sleep quality, mood, mental clarity and help to prevent overeating.

Your first change – do some breathing exercises or meditation for 10mins when you get into bed.

Sleep

Getting enough sleep will improve your energy levels, exercise performance, recovery, focus at work, stress levels, mood and help to reduce cravings.

Your first change – turn off all screens an hour before bed. Use this time to read, meditate, do a jigsaw, have a bath, listen to music or whatever it is that will help you switch off and relax.

Remember, the fundamentals all work together and rely on each other.

For example, to improve your fitness by attending a cross training class, you need to eat healthy to fuel your body with the right food, be hydrated, and have had a good nights sleep in order to have enough energy to get through your workout.

WELCOME TO YOUR PERSONALISED HEALTHY EATING PLAN!

Before we get started, we want to make it clear...

THIS IS NOT A 'DIET' WITH RULES AND RESTRICTIONS

We just want to show you a simple way of eating that will improve your energy levels, health and happiness!

Your nutrition plan will guide you in making healthier choices by helping you become more aware of what you are eating and drinking, and provide a guide on how much. We encourage you to cue in to your hunger and fullness signals as a guide on how much to eat.

5 Muscle

Helps to build muscle mass which improves your strength and mobility.

YOUR PERSONALISED NUTRITION PLAN

We have used the information you provided us upon registration to create your personalised eating plan.

Your daily energy target is 9,000kjs.

Instead of you having to count kilojoules, we have made it easier by creating a personalised Daily Portion Guide for you.

To reach your personal goal, we recommend you have the following daily portions from the five food groups. 1 portion = 1 serve in our recipes

Your Daily Portion Guide

If you have changed your weight stats, your goal or physical activity levels on our website (under edit my profile), make sure you re-download your nutrition plan as your daily energy target may have changed.

YOUR PORTION SIZE GUIDE

Remember these portion sizes are an approximation.
Your hand size is an average estimate of how much your body needs.

● = 1 VEGGIE PORTION - 150-250kj each

● = 1 FRUIT PORTION - 250-350kj each

● = 1 WHOLEGRAIN CARB PORTION - 400-500kj each

● = 1 PROTEIN PORTION - 500-600kj each

● = HEALTHY FAT PORTION - 200-300kj each

SAMPLE DAY OF HEALTHY EATING

Feeling overwhelmed?

We understand you may not have time to plan and portion out every meal of the day! It's all about becoming more aware of your food choices and serving sizes when you're serving up your meals at home or eating out.

Here are two baby steps to start healthy eating:

Swap a couple of your regular foods with foods from the healthy food groups.

e.g. Swap your sugary cereal for wholegrain cereal flakes or your sugary afternoon snack for yoghurt and fruit.

When eating at home or at a restaurant, start to be mindful of how much of each food group you are eating.

e.g. Do you need to add another portion of vegetables? How big is your serving of meat? How many portions of carbohydrates do you think are in your meal?

STAYING HYDRATED

Here are some important tips for keeping hydrated

'EVERYDAY' DRINK: WATER

80% of Australian's don't drink enough water. Dehydration can cause fatigue, headaches, mood swings, dizziness, slow responses, tiredness, and weakness.

Dehydration can also increase cravings and be mistaken for hunger.

If you experience any of these symptoms regularly, you may be dehydrated without even knowing it!

AIM FOR AROUND 2 LITRES OF WATER PER DAY. WHAT DOES 2 LITRES OF WATER LOOK LIKE?

8 cups (250ml)

Get into the habit of drinking a cup of water when you wake up and before and after each meal.

4 standard size drink bottles (600ml)

Keep a drink bottle on you everywhere you go, so you can regularly sip away.

'SOMETIMES' DRINK: FRUIT JUICE

Fruit juice is not as healthy as it may sound.

Did you know one cup of fruit juice can have up to 7 teaspoons of sugar in it?

We recommended sweetening up sparkling water with fresh fruit instead.

Click on this image to check out some delicious combinations we have come up with to quench your thirst.

'ALMOST NEVER' DRINK: SOFT DRINKS, SPORTS DRINKS AND ENERGY DRINKS

Did you know, one can of coke has a whopping 10 teaspoons of sugar in it?

These drinks are very high in sugar and provide no nutritional value to your body.

This amount of sugar will give you a quick energy burst but cause your energy levels to quickly crash, leaving you feeling tired.

We recommend reducing these drinks to no more than one small can per week, if any.

ULTRA-PROCESSED FOODS

What are ultra-processed foods?

Foods that have been highly processed usually have added sugars, fats, salt and preservatives.

This includes pre-packaged snacks, sweets and meals found in the supermarket, as well as takeaway meals and snacks.

These types of foods provide little nutritional value and are not essential for your health.

In the short term, they can make you feel lethargic, low in energy and cause brain fog. In the long term, they can have a detrimental effect on your health and increase your risk of diseases like obesity, diabetes, heart disease, and some cancers. Eating too many of these foods can also contribute to feelings of depression and anxiety.

SO I CAN NEVER EAT MY FAVOURITE TAKEAWAYS AGAIN?

Good news folks, they can be enjoyed in small amounts.

The added sugars, fats, and salt in these foods make them very high in kilojoules and easy to overeat. That is why you only need a small amount, as they can quickly lead to poorer health outcomes.

WHAT DOES A 'SMALL AMOUNT' OF ULTRA-PROCESSED FOODS LOOK LIKE?

Here are some examples of what a serving size of ultra-processed foods looks like. We have also provided you with healthier options to swap your regular takeaways and other processed snacks for.

What we want is for you to notice the changes in how you feel when you make choices that benefit your health. Some of the changes you may expect to see after swapping your takeaway options for a healthier versions are (but not limited to): a clearer mind, clearer skin, more energy, improved digestion and improved immunity.

ONE SERVING OF ULTRA-PROCESSED FOODS

2 slices take-away pizza

12 fried hot chips

1/2 takeaway burger

2 small biscuits / cookies

1/2 doughnut

1/2 small choc bar,
or 4 squares of chocolate

YUMMY HEALTHY ALTERNATIVES

homemade pizza

homemade hot chips

homemade burger

chewy oat bites

choc chip muffins

choc yoghurt

Remember, a serving size of ultra-processed foods is much smaller than our healthier counterparts. This is because the added sugars, fats and salt in these foods make them much higher in energy compared to our healthier alternatives!

ALCOHOL CONSUMPTION

If you enjoy a drink, then the good news is we are not going to tell you to stop altogether.

IT'S IMPORTANT YOU MAKE SMALL CHANGES THAT YOU CAN STICK TO IN THE LONG TERM.

ALCOHOL IS CONSIDERED A 'SOMETIMES' DRINK.

HERE'S OUR ADVICE

- Have no more than 2 standard drinks on any day.
- Have a glass of water in between drinks.
- Ensure you have at least 3 alcohol-free days every week.
- Try to take small sips and drink slowly.

WINE

WHAT DOES 1 STANDARD DRINK OF WINE LOOK LIKE?

100ml
(most restaurants pour 150ml)

1 bottle contains 8 standard drinks

BEER

HOW MANY STANDARD DRINKS ARE IN YOUR BEER?

1.25 in full strength
beer

1 in mid strength
beer

0.75 in light beer

CONCLUSION

A WORD FROM OUR NUTRITIONISTS

We hope you have enjoyed reading through your healthy eating guide and aren't feeling too overwhelmed. Please remember we want healthy eating to fit in with your lifestyle. If you make just one small change, like adding an extra cup of veggies to your dinner each night, this will start to make a positive impact on your health. There is no perfect 'diet' out there and different things work for different people. This is to be used as a guide on how to build a balanced meal and snack, and encourage you to rely on your hunger and fullness signals to identify whether you need more or less food.

It's all about YOU making choices that will help YOU to feel happier, healthier and full of energy. Remember, healthy eating helps improves how you feel, how much energy you have to exercise, how your body recovers after exercise, how clearly you think and concentrate, your sleep quality and your disease risk. We hope you can use your healthy eating plan as a guide to help you make small changes over time, enjoy what you're eating and feel good from the inside out!

ABOUT OUR NUTRITIONISTS

Sarah is our in-house dietitian/nutritionist. She is from rural NSW and understands the challenge of healthy eating in a rural setting with little options of food variety. Her passion is to encourage others to improve their relationship with food and believes that all foods fit in to a healthy diet.

Jazmyn is our in-house nutritionist. She has recently become a mother so understands the impact of being time poor whilst still trying to eat healthy. Her passion is to inspire others to cook quick and easy meals that are aligned to their goals.
